Kiso Hinoki distilled water

The trunks of Kiso Hinoki cypress are used as high-quality building materials at places like Ise Shrine, but what we use are the cut-off branches and leaves.

Because it is a precious natural Kiso cypress, we want to use it carefully and without leaving anything behind. And we don't mix anything unnecessary in it.

We strictly adhere to this policy and produce distilled water using only cypress chips and natural spring water nurtured by the rich natural environment.

The benefits of the 300-year-old forest protect and heal the oral environment of modern people like us.
